The State Bar association holds its annual meeting in this city June 8 and 9. About 800 of the leading members of the bar of Missouri will be present.

For nearly half a century Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been the most popular cough remedy in the world. The constantly increasing demand for this remedy proves it to be the very best specific for cold, coughs, and all diseases of the throat and lungs.

The Capital City Gun club was represented at the state shoot in Kansas City this week by Col. W. Q. Dallmeyer, F. P. Dallmeyer, John Doehle and W. F. Rosen. Mr. F. P. Dallmeyer was elected vice president of the state association.

"Late to bed and early to rise will shorten the road to your home in the skies." But early to bed and a "Little Early Riser," the pill that makes life longer and better and wiser. A. BRANDENBERGER.

The new hardware store of Messrs. Shockey and Rathen is a little gem. The store is light, bright and airy, while everything is arranged according to a convenient system that aids the purchaser to easily see what he wants and the seller to wait on him.

Tuesday Governor Francis appointed delegates to represent Missouri at the opening of the Memphis Bridge and Deep Water convention to be held in Memphis, Tenn., May 11, 12 and 13, 1892. The Governor has also requested the Commercial, Agricultural and Trade organizations of Missouri to send delegates to this celebration and convention.

If dull, spiritless and stupid; if your blood is thick and sluggish; if your appetite is capricious and uncertain, you need a Sarsaparilla. For best results take De Witt's.

A. BRANDENBERGER.

It is given out that Mr. George C. Smith, assistant general manager of the Missouri Pacific, will succeed Mr. S. H. Clark, first vice-president and general manager, when the latter resigns (which he will do in a few days) to take charge of the Union Pacific system as its president.

Kansas City Times.

A dry, hacking cough keeps the bronchial tubes in a state of constant irritation, which, if not speedily removed, may lead to bronchitis. No prompter remedy can be had than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is both an anodyne and expectorant.

Opera House.

On Friday evening, May 6, Mrs. Goodwin's concert at the opera house will please all who enjoy vocal music of a high order. Reserved seats at Monong's without extra charge.

Cyclones.

Monday night there were cyclones in DeKalb county this state and in Linn Creek, southeast of Topeka, and near Moline, Kansas, and at Kingfisher, Oklahoma, Territory.

Seven people were killed and over one hundred injured and thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed by these storms.

Also at McFall, Gentry county, Mo., there was a cyclone in which two persons were killed and many injured. Those who escaped did so by resorting to cyclone holes. Many of the people ended in water waist deep. The desolation in the track of the storm can hardly be described.

Missouri River Water.

The Missouri river water, which is used at St. Louis in preference to that of the Mississippi, is singularly free from deleterious matter of any description. It has been subjected to medical analysis again and again and is pronounced wholesome and pure. When the settling tanks are not overtaxed the water comes through the pipes as clear as the most fastidious can desire, and, although at times the enormous drain on the tanks and the pumping engine prevents the necessary settling, the water is still declared to be perfectly harmless, and is so quoted by the who drink it most freely.—New England Magazine.

City Council.

The first regular meeting of the new city council was held Monday evening.

The board of health and the board of fire wardens were elected for the ensuing year, as follows:

We truly believe De Witt's Little Early Riser to be the most natural, most effective, most prompt and economical pill for biliousness, indigestion and inactive liver.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Ironton, Mo., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Total bottles free at A. Brandenberger's Drugstore, regular size, 50c and $1.00.

MRS. BROWNING.

She was free from the bad taste and other faults of Clever Woman.

From the Temple Bar.

She wore her hair in long ringlets, which, falling very much over her face, and when seen in profile, suggested the unpleasant idea of blinkers that harshly cut across the graceful curves of brow and cheek. It was this style of arranging her dark hair that made Mrs. Browning look, not old-fashioned—for that would have given a touch of sentiment—but strangely out of the fashion. Her slight, prettily figure was rather disguised than set off by garments that fell lopping around her; but thank heaven, she was entirely and utterly free from bad taste of the self-styled clever women, who acknowledge themselves to be failures, as women, by aping a masculine style of dress and address.

In conversation Mrs. Browning seemed reserved, with a certain proud aloofness of manner; at the same time there was a listening reticence in her attitude that did not help the playfully teasing and fro of talk. Occasionally she flung her remarks into the midst of the discussion, and such remarks were weighed, measured and full of sense and purpose. It was evident that Mrs. Browning had not thrown off the habit, acquired in the years of silence in her darkened chamber, of conversing in a one-sided way with the best books, which is vastly different from conversing with the best men. "Good talk" has an unexpressed mutual understanding—has a kindling reserve of hidden sympathy, a magnetism as powerful as the earth currents, and, moreover, in the free play of thought from lips that smile and brows that frown there is an equipoise of sense and nonsense, of serious fact and sparkling triviality, an effervescence of assent that will never get itself written down.

I remember speaking with Crab Robinson about Mrs. Browning; he partly agreed with me, but not entirely. He was not so disappointed as I was with her reserve in conversation; being a great talker himself, he specially valued the gift of silence in others. He found this as very interesting and pleasant commentary on her "talk."

Do you know it.

A common cough is the most dangerous thing in the world to neglect; a slight hacking cough is also very dangerous, as it always leads to bronchitis and consumption. Don't neglect them. In selecting a remedy for coughs, colds and bronchitis, be sure and get one that is not full of opium and one that will not produce constipation. Ballard's Horehound Syrup does not constipate, remember this. It is perfectly harmless to children, and it's the most soothing and healing throat and lung medicine in the world. It cures consumption, coughs, colds, sore throat, asthma, whooping cough, croup, bronchitis, hoarseness, sore lungs, tickling in the throat and greatly strengthens the lungs after pneumonia. Sold by A. Brandenberger.

As a special inducement to new subscribers, we will send "THE STATE REPUBLICAN" until after the election in November, for 50 cts. All the National, State and County news will be given in full.

THE MAID AND THE ROSES.

She wore two roses, a red and a white, The breast of her antique adorning. As she passed on her way with tentative light To church on a Sunday morning.

Oh, fresh were the roses and fair to see In the eyes of those that love them, But they were not as fresh and as fair to me As the beautiful face above them.

But each of the roses symbolized a part Of herself as they bloomed together; The red of her warm, impulsive heart, The type of her soul the other.

Thus often in beautiful things one sees The symbols of something human, As these roses were types of the excellent virtues That dwell in lovely women.
